FOREWORD

We, the class of '30, do present this Arcadian to our schoolmates and friends for their enjoyment.

We hope that the tendencies toward modernism within its pages in no way thwarts the ideal contentment of our people or the true Arcadian traditions.

DEDICATION

To Miss Crafts

Teacher and friend, whose sacrifices and untiring efforts have been directed toward making Arcadia High School prominent in the field of Literary work, we respectfully dedicate this publication of our annual.

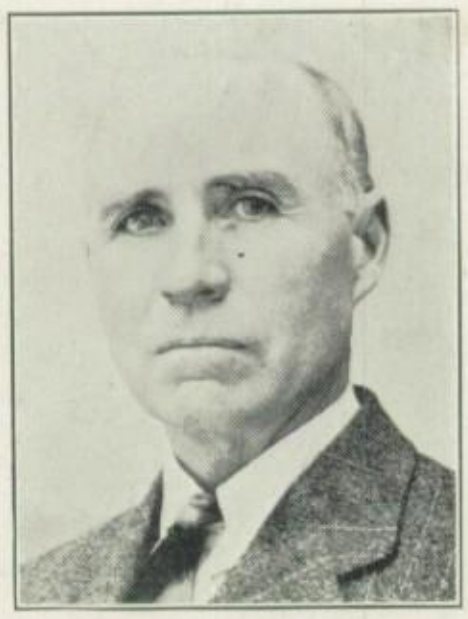
OUR SCHOOL

Board of Education

Seated—Harry Huffmaster, S. E. Noel, Parlee Binger.
Standing—W. A. Leonard, Ellis Pessell.



Mr. Nesbit is the new member added to our Board of Education this year, since Mr. Huffmaster chose to devote his time to the duties of Clerk of the Township only.

We, the students of Arcadia High School, thank with deepest gratitude the sincere interest that these citizens of our community have taken in our school. Seldom do we see them as officials, but we know they give many hours of tireless effort for the welfare of the boys and girls in order that they may have training that will enable them to be better men and women tomorrow.

Grade Faculty

Seated—Pauline Shuck, Eva Fisher, Nellie Ebersole, Marie Ebersole, Mabel Bennet.
Standing—Lillian Sterling, Rosie Fox, Edna Conaway, Bellé Ebersole.

The above teachers have charge of the first to the eighth grades respectively. The four upper grades are departmentized so subjects are being taught by the same teachers in two grades.

The grade work is of very high class, showing efficient work on the part of each instructor and a high degree of cooperation is maintained. The excellent production of the operetta, "Under the Stars and Stripes" showed what can be accomplished by our teachers working in unison with a special supervisior such as Mrs. Fruth.

The State Department of Education requires one-hundred minutes each week of the school program to be devoted to physical education. This requirement is being taken care of by the teacher of each home room. In addition to this physical training, in the upper grades basketball teams have been organized. In the lower grades supervised games and play are a part of the daily program, for our teachers realize that health is as necessary in the development of the child as in mental training.

The class of '30 was especially well represented by its members in athletics. Those in football were, Richard Anderson (Captain), a four-year letter man who wears four white stripes on his sweater; Carey Rhoten, a three-letter man, who wears three stripes; Robert Painter, a two-year letter man, who wears two stripes; Raymond Nesbitt and Maurice Hoffman, both two-year letter men, who are eligible to wear two stripes. Donald Barnes entered the game this year to earn a letter and is eligible to wear one stripe.

In basketball there were, Carey Rhoten (Captain), a one-year letter man; Richard Anderson, again a four-year letter man; Robert Painter, a two-year letter man, and Raymond Nesbitt, a one-year letter man.

The girls in basketball were, Dorothy Conine receiving four letters; Bessie Beamer and Wilma Fox each received a letter in their Senior year.

Our first program consisted of music and short talks by members of the class. The next program was to advertise the sale of annuals through a two act skit representing the work and fun of the staff in publishing an annual. Our last appearance was in our caps and gowns.

Our class play "The Charm School" is to be presented on May 2, at the high school auditorium.

Once upon a time in March we put away the serious side of school life and enjoyed ourselves at a party at the home of Wilma Fox.

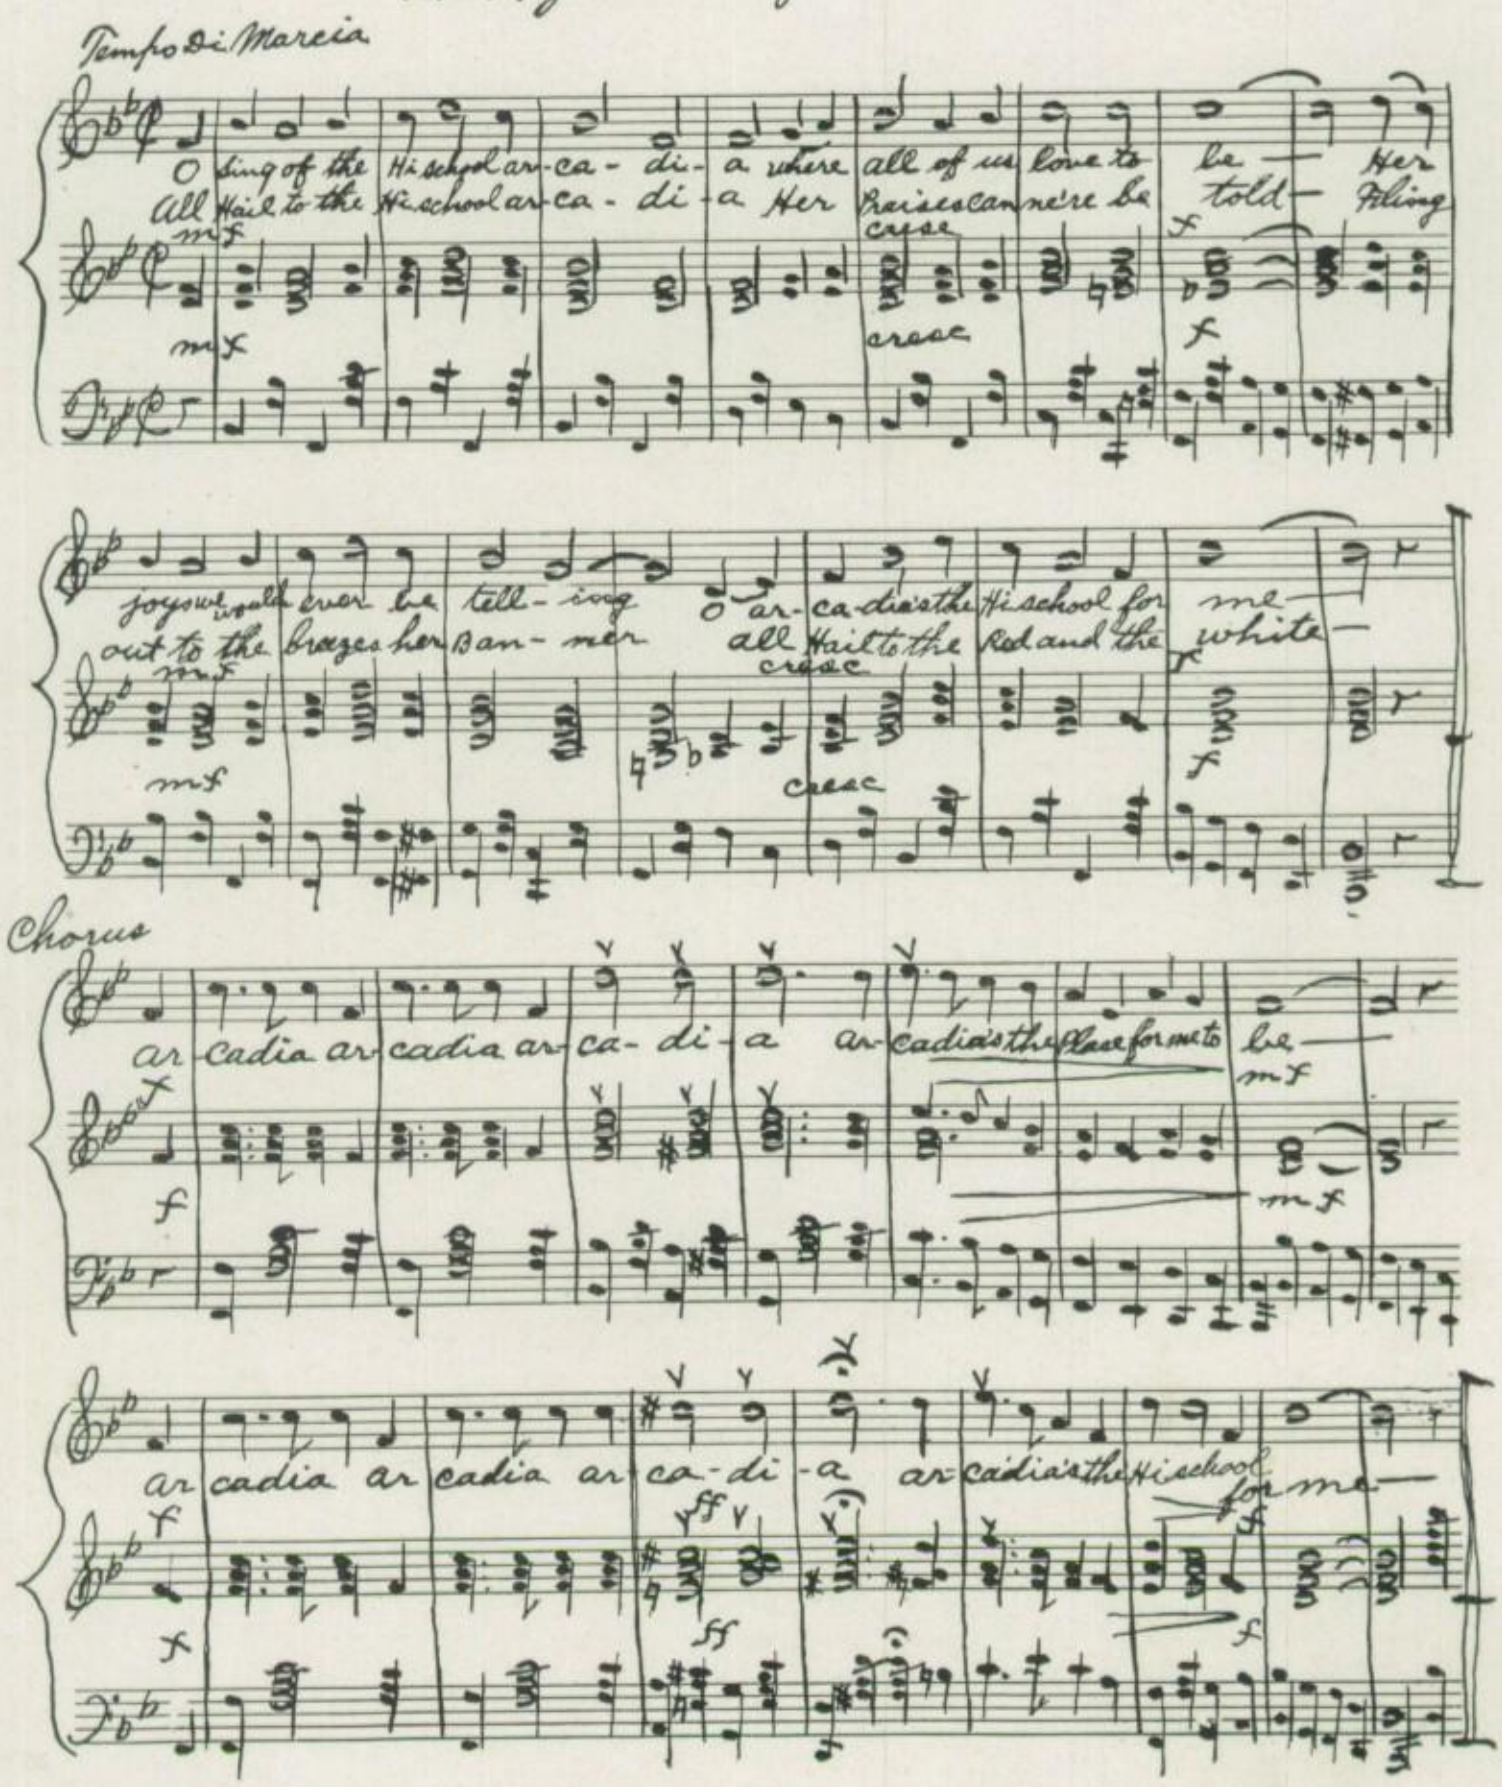
"The High School for Me" words by Lucille Kirian
music by C. A. Ward



Tempo di Marcia
O sing of the High school ar-ca-di-a where all of us love to be
All Hail to the High school ar-ca-di-a Her Praises can ne're be told
Her
Fling
joyously out to the breezes would ever be telling her
Ban-ner
O ar-ca-dia is the High school for me
all Hail to the Red and the white
Chorus
ar-cadia ar-cadia ar-ca-di-a ar-cadia is the place for me to be ar-cadia ar-cadia ar-ca-di-a ar-cadia is the High school for me

In October our music teacher, Mrs. Fruth, appeared before us and announced the need of a high school song. The words of this song were to be chosen through a contest. Several students of the high school submitted copies of appropriate poems and from these the two stanzas with a chorus submitted by Lucille Kirian were chosen. A prize of one dollar was given to Lucille as the winner. Through the courtesy of Mrs. Fruth's father, Mr. C. A. Ward of Fostoria, suitable scores of music were furnished to which these words were set. Anyone visiting our school on chapel morning can hear the spirited strains of this song echoing along the corridors. Through its publication here, we hope that it receives the favor of our readers and that they in turn will come to appreciate its melody and sentiment.

Class Will

We, the Seniors of Arcadia High school, Village of Arcadia, of Ohio, after a most strenuous battle against hard knocks, do give this as our last will and testament to benefit school authorities and under-classmates who are forced to follow in our foot steps.

I Feeling that we have accomplished much this year, we wish to will our row of seats in the assembly room, our front seats in the auditorium and our privilege to have so many class meetings, to the Junior class, hoping that they will make good use of them as we have.

II To the Sophomores we will the right to become Seniors in two years if they have grades which will permit them.

III To the Freshmen we will our hope and ambition to occupy our seats in due time, hoping they will not deface our carved names.

IV To the Board of Education we wish to leave two signs "No Candy on Sale at Noon" and "No Smoking for Basketball Players." Both signs are to be used in the future.

V To Mr. Kieffer we give the right to patrol the halls that he may further develop his education by learning opinions of himself which he does not already know.

VI To Mr. Beane we bequeath our co-operation in obtaining quietness and order in the assembly when the bell rings, hoping the next Senior class will be as obedient as we were????

VII To Mr. Faller we bequeath the remainder of our Chemistry fees, hoping he has a nice vacation on what is left after all debts are paid.

VIII To Miss Crafts we will the right to the happy and restful vacation which she will enjoy after being released from the troubles caused by this Senior class.

IX To Miss Britton we humbly bequeath a hand embroidered towel for her hope chest.

X We, the members of the Senior class, do will and bequeath our personal possessions as follows:

1 Helen Myers wills her artistic ability to Clark Moyer to be used with wit and judgment in working with class advisors on the Annual Staff.

2 Maurice Hoffman wills away his musical ability to Charles Seevers with the hope that he gains fame by his blowing.

3 Wilma Fox, our blond curly head, wishes to leave her nickname "Fuzzy" to Amy Barnes.

4 Eva Warner wills her desire to start housekeeping to Lucille Nesbitt who is equally devoted to her boy friend.

5 Dorothy Conine bequeaths her cheerful disposition to Ruth Sickles because she thinks it is unfair for one person to have so much and another so little.

6 Edna Harler wills her timid voice to Ruth Rhoten with all its mitigating qualities.

7 Kathryn Ebersole wills her obliging "Oh Yea!" to Albert Russell that he may be on the affirmative of all arguments.

8 Donald Barnes bequeaths his ability to master chemistry to Ithel Woodward and may he use this said inheritance immediately.

9 Harold Borkosky wills his speed and good intentions to John Pore.

10 Helen Ritter leaves her quiet but effective ways to Kathryn Treece that the school may profit by the example.

11 Ethel Fisher wills her reticence in appearing in public to Isabelle Trout.

12 Carey Rhoten wills his peaceful naps in Mr. Beane's class to Louis Blake.

13 Bessie Beamer wills her snappy eyes to Hazel Mellott on the condition that she does not allow them to remain in disuse.

14 Richard Anderson wills his art of throwing shoes in the assembly to any one who finds a shoe.

15 Walter Noel bequeaths to any Junior, so deserving, the right to get bawled out in English class.

16 Eleanor Semler wills her disposition to Helen Crawford, hoping the snappiness of it makes curly hair, thus saving marcel bills.

17 William Dillery wills his right to haul the Senior girls around to Clair Huffman, hoping that he will have the trade that he had.

18 Grace Oman wishes to leave to Kathryn Jameson her marvelous and mysterious power over men.

19 Raymond Nesbitt wills his football experience to Dale Ebersole, that he may avoid many a hard knock.

20 Robert Painter wills his love for English to Robert Russell so he will not need to use any effort in developing a desire for the said subject.

21 Helen Hienze wishes to bequeath her art of looking innocence to Ruth Peters so she will will not have the trouble of learning.

22 Herbert Hill wills his glasses to Robert Reid with the hope that he may see the point of Mr. Faller's remarks.

23 Norene Myers wills her ability to make extemporaneous speeches in History class for the delight of her classmates, to anyone unlucky enough to be called on.

Signed in the Hall of Wisdom on the 16th day of May, in the year of our Lord, 1930.

By Norene Myers
(With power of attorney)

Mr. Clayton Wiseley.

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IF—

1. Bill Dillery's car would run once with the Seniors girls in it.
2. Ethel Fisher didn't get an "A."
3. Kathryn Ebersole forgot to say "Oh! for Heaven's Sake."
4. Dorothy Conine couldn't giggle.
5. Eleanor Semler really became cheerful for once.
6. Carey Rhoten could learn to take criticism.
7. Edna Harler couldn't have dates.
8. Richard Anderson didn't like Mae.
9 Maurice Hoffman could act gentlemanly.
10. Helen Ritter wouldn't trace Grace.
11. Bessie Beamer would ever gossip.
12. Raymond Nesbitt's hair came out.
13. Robert Painter took a liking to English.
14. Wilma Fox objected to being called "Fuzzy."
15. Harold Borkosky wore golf pants.
16. Walter Noel became romantic with a certain Senior girl.
17. Grace Oman couldn't have the last word.
18. Helen Myers lost her musical ability.
19. Helen Heinze could fall for Harold Borkosky.
20. Eva Warner would be an old maid.
21. Donald Barnes became a cave-man.
22. Herbert Hill would not be so reserved.
23. Norene Myers lost her sunny smile.

Senior Class History

A poet sometimes expresses many beautiful thoughts which are akin to ours. In the poem of Excelsior he speaks of the experience of a youth—

"The shades of night were falling fast,
As thro' an Alpine village passed,
A youth who bore, mid snow and ice,
A banner with a strange device.
—Excelsior."

These lines are expressive of our experiences as a class when we entered into the valley of knowledge in 1926. We were young and sensitive, but all seemed active enough to start the great climb at once. The different members soon found their starting place to receive the training for true shepherds. Some took the path that led to economics, others the study of agriculture, while a few preferred the foreign language, which was a smooth path for Ethel Fisher and Kathryn Ebersole, but a rugged one for Maurice Hoffman and Harold Borkosky. The look upon their faces sometimes revealed to us what the poet says—

"His brow was sad, his eye beneath
Flashed like a falcon from its sheath,
And like a silver clarion rung
The accents of that unknown tongue.
—Excelsior."

Other members strived equally as hard to collect the multitude of ideas that were afloat above them. We were often interrupted from our studies by giggles and little pranks played by Eleanor Semler and Dorothy Conine. The five quiet lassies—Wilma Fox, Helen Ritter, Edna Harler, Helen Heinze and Norene Myers never annoyed with their winning smiles. While some of the boys, Carey Rhoten, Walter Noel and Richard Anderson were given a speech from Mr. Beane in Agriculture for being so quiet and attentive during class recitations, Donald Barnes went to sleep and was awakened by his neighbor to receive full benefit of the speech.

With hard work and play the class kept on climbing, going around obstacles, over or through them, but always higher and higher in their mountain climb.

Lucile Higley, Amos Graber, Waldo Good, Lynn Stacy, Abbey Fleming, Earl Cramner and Della Coleman wandered so far from our path that they become lost. Even others would stray now and then losing sight of those who felt such a close friendship that they could always be seen climbing together. This was noticeable among the Algebra students in the case of William Dillery and Helen Myers.

The path often led away from the herding of ideas to a field of recreation, such as basketball and football. Here Dick Anderson and Bob Painter were our stars. Operettas claimed Maurice Hoffman. Here he could be seen playing the Shepherd's pipes in the green fields of the Arcadian. Class plays sought Eleanor Semler, Bessie Beamer and Grace Oman where they displayed their dramatic ability. Through these different fields of recreation the class feels as if they have been a benefit in adding much to a new herd of ideas different from those received in their daily routine of class work. It was the faithful help of the faculty and our class president that we were always kept on the right path during our High School days. Raymond Nesbitt called many class meetings and explained how co-operation and hard work were necessary on the part of every student to climb the path to success.

The shepherds, Mr. Kieffer, Mr. Beane, Mr. Faller and Mr. Wiseley were always with us to aid in any way possible. A very dependable shepherd was Mr. Kieffer, who, through his experiences with other classes, knew just how to keep our class working together. Miss Crafts, our shepherdess, could always be seen toiling with us. It was her patience and encouragement that lifted us over our stumbling blocks and made our path easier to climb up the mountain.

We have missed the final experience of the youth whom the poet celebrated—

"A traveler, by the faithful hound,
Half buried, by the snow was found,
Still grasping in his hand of ice
That banner with the strange device.
—Excelsior."

No such tragedy ever happened to us but as a class we wish to leave with our teachers and friends these few words, that, we are "NOT ON THE HEIGHTS, BUT CLIMBING," and—

"We're leaving Arcadia Hi light of heart
Because we have finished our work.
And when the long climb of life starts,
We,ll all do our best and not shirk."
—Eva Warner.

This year as Juniors we have become more prominent in school affairs. We began our dramatic career early in the school year by presenting at chapel services, under the direction of Mr. Wisley, a short play entitled, "Squaring It with the Boss." Our real dramatic ability, however, was shown in the presentation of our class play "The Absent-Minded Bridegroom" on February 15th. Six members of the class helped to contribute to the success of the Honor Circle. Gladys Mellott was chosen news editor while Lavoin Hainen was elected vice president.

As a class we have made great progress in social affairs. Our first party was in the form of a "Taffy-Pull" at the home of our sponsor and later in the school year we held another party at the home of Helen Crawford. As a fitting climax for these we are looking forward to a more formal arrangement, the Junior-Senior banquet.

We have broadened our study of History through visiting Hayes' Memorial in Fremont. We have already thought of the financial side of trips. With the aid of funds from our class play and a bake sale we have slowly but surely increased the bank account which we have laid back in anticipation of our final trip to Washington, D. C.

To prove that the Sophomore class has made some progress in the preceding year we have the following represented in the Honor Circle: Ruby Woodward, Evelyn Niebel, Alice Nau and Frances Hardy.

We were well represented in athletics. The boys taking an active part in football were George Long, Robert Reid and Charles Seevers. Those in basketball were Irvin Fox, Evelyn Niebel and Ruby Woodward.

We had the honor of having charge of the Chapel on December 19, and presented a program consisting of Christmas numbers.

"An Old Fashioned Mother" was the title of the play given April 18, 1930, sponsored by Miss Britton and Mr. Faller. The proceeds increased the amount in the class considerably.

Early in the year we opened our social activities with a party at the home of Maxine Warner.

Our class stood out distinctly in the presentation of the high school operetta, sponsored by the music supervisor, Mrs. Fruth. The leading part was carried by a Sophomore student, Frances Hardy, and many other students were represented in the various choruses. Another commendable fact was that part of the accompaniment was played by Alice Nau.

We have seventeen girls and six boys taking part in the glee clubs. Alice Nau is pianist of the boy's glee club. There are three boys, John Brenner, Charles Seevers and Irvin Fox in the High School Orchestra.

First Row—

Miss Britton (Class sponsor), Ruby Woodward, Dorcas Rhidenour, Eulalia Emerine, Nella Mellott, Opal Brandeberry, Maxine Warner, Alice Nau, Evelyn Nieble, Frances Hardy.

Second Row—

Treasurer ..... Marion Crawford

For a time we tried to get acquainted with our new surroundings, and had just begun to feel our greatness when the Sophomores took us in hand for initiation and treated us to a bottle of milk, via a nipple and in other ways informed us of our greenness.

At the get-together party given by the Faculty, Albert Russell, Richard Wisley and Marion Crawford directed by Mr. Faller, won first prize with stunt contest with a series of poses; Albert was judged the best actor.

At the Hallowe'en party we held at the school house, prizes were given to the best dressed, the funniest, and the hardest to guess.

The Christmas party given by the Faculty was a sort of classmeet. The Freshmen won first prize.

Early in February we gave a farewell party for Doris McDaniels at Margaret Snyder's home. Refreshments were served after several games had been played.

After the devotions in our turn at chapel, a short play, "Come Out of It" was presented. Margaret Snyder and Albert Russell took the leading parts with Dorothy Fox, George Schroder, Mildred Diebley, Maxine Heinze and Marion Crawford supporting them. It was directed by Mr. Faller.

We furnished six football reserves who occupied the bench and offered some resistance in practice.

Our basketball team defeated Hammansburg Freshmen, although we didn't show up so well against the upper classes in the Intra-mural tournament.

Each of the five literary societies are represented in our class, as well as the future Farmers of America and the Home Economics club.

Under the leadership of the sponsor Mr. Beane, much progress has been made with the Honor Circle and many more members have come into the society. As a result students have taken a part in more activities, as well as working for better grades. The regular meetings were held every two weeks on Friday during the extra curricular period, in which the society continued the study on the book of "Character Conduct and Study." The project of the Honor Circle, the writing of the school news that appeared in the local papers. This was written by two members each week.

This society which was organized three years ago has become a permanent organization within our school. An amendment was made to the constitution this year, and the upper classmen are eligible for membership providing they fall not below an average grade of three "B's" and one "C" and have sufficient points in activities. A senior must have fifty-five points at first semester and sixty-six points at graduation. Twenty-two members were enrolled in the society this year and nine Senior members will leave.

Five of the Senior members will receive gold pins upon graduation for being in the Honor Circle for three years. They are: Kathryn Ebersole, Ethel Fisher, Eleanor Semler, Helen Myers and Eva Warner. The remaining four members will receive enameled pins. They are: Bessie Beamer, Grace Oman, Raymond Nesbitt and Helen Ritter.

Under our instructor, Mrs. Fruth, our boys' and girls' glee clubs have contributed much to school activities this year. During the first semester the two glee clubs combined in giving the operetta "Miss Cherry Blossom." During the last semester, glee club time was spent in the study of music appreciation and in chorus work. From time to time the glee clubs have appeared in various entertainments such as the Farmer's Institute, P. T. A., and in chapel. Along with our regular glee clubs we had the girl's double trio and the boy's double quartette. These were made up of the more talented members of the clubs.

Throughout the three years that Mrs. Fruth has been with us there has been noticeable improvement and advancement in the musical work of the glee clubs, the grade choruses and of the school in general. We appreciate this improvement and hope it will in part, repay our instructor for her unceasing efforts.

Through the efforts of Mr. Ossman and Miss Kempher, instrumental music teachers, we now have a school orchestra. It too has furnished musical entertainment on various occasions this winter. Mr. Ossman, the director, is very optimistic in his outlook for next year's orchestra since so much interest has been taken in the orchestra and since such a good foundation has been laid.

The orchestra is composed of the following:

VIOLINS: Walter Noel, Irvin Fox, Ardyth Ebersole, Elizabeth Pessell and Miss Kempher (Instructor).
CORNETS: Maurice Hoffman, Lavoin Hainen, Charles Seevers, John Brenner, Harold Cardwell, Carl Peters and Wayne Damon.
CLARINETS: Lloyd Mergenthaler, Eugene Reid and James Robert Bennett.
DRUM: Tom Leonard.
PIANIST: Helen Myers.
DIRECTOR: Mr. Fred Ossman.

These twenty-six girls have the honor of being the members of the first "Vocational" Home Economics Department in the Arcadia High School. Their course is supervised by the State Office of Public Instruction which prescribes and standardizes it throughout the state. Its avowed purpose is for training the girls in home living.

Their club attempts to establish a friendly social relation among the girls whereby they may have training in the cultural aspects of the social graces.

Projects which pertain to the units studied at school may be carried on after school is out when the girls have more time to devote to home duties and responsibilities. Each project is supervised by the teacher who has specialized in vocational work.

The girls taking Home Economics I have studied units on breakfasts, luncheons or suppers, Christmas candies, clothing, related art and home planning and furnishing. Those taking Home Economics II have studied units on dinners, Christmas cakes and candies, food for small children, clothing, home management and child care.

Interesting observation trips have been taken by the girls. One of the most delightful trips was to Gladys Cain's to see little Jimmie's clothing and to see him get his bath. Other places visited were Jackson's store (for meat cutting demonstration, to see rugs, curtains, wall paper and bakery), Patterson's store (to see clothing for a high school girl), cooking schools, Union National Bank at Fostoria, and City Market No. 1 in Findlay to learn more about the selection and kinds of fruits and vegetables.

Plans are being made for a home economics program, including a style show, to be given in the Spring.

The "Triple A" chapter of the National Organization of Future Farmers of America for vocational agriculture boys was organized January 16th, 1930. The first meeting in each month was a literary meeting and the second was one devoted largely to business and practice in parlamentary law.

The Charter members of our organization of last year initiated the Sophomore, Junior and Senior Boys who were eligible, in the Green Hand Degree.

The boys sent Walter Myers as their delegate to the State Future Farmer's Association Convention which was held at the Ohio State University during Farmers' week. Murrell Myers, Robert Treece, and Richard Wisley represented us in the Vocational Agriculture Apple Judging Contest which was held in Columbus during Farmers' Week.

On February 5th the members of our chapter went to Amsden and initiated seventeen agriculture boys and the Superintendent, Mr. Swihart, in the Green Hand Degree. We were afterwards served "Hot Dog" sandwiches.

Walter Myers won second place in the Public Speaking Contest held between the vocational agriculture departments in the western half of district five. His subjct was "How to Maintain Soil Fertility."

We lost with a score of 2500 as compared with 3500 points in the pest hunt contest held between our department and the department at Vanlue High School. As the result of losing in this contest we entertained the Vanlue Future Farmers Association Organization at Arcadia on Friday evening, March 21. We gave them a banquet of sandwiches, pop corn and pop. The entertainment consisted of two basketball games.

The following program of work was planned by the organization for the year—hold a community fair, support the farmers' institute, put on a pest hunt, hold a father and son banquet, try to get all the boys taking agriculture to join our organization, plan a project tour, enter teams in the judging contest at Vocational Agriculture Day at the Ohio State University.

The Parent-Teacher Association

The following officers were chosen to carry on the activities of the Parent Teacher's Association for this year, President—Mrs. J. K. Hottle, Vice-President—Mr. Alva Leonard, Secretary—Miss Eva Fisher, Treasurer—Miss Rosie Fox, Chorister—Mr. J. C. Fisher, Pianist—Mrs. Mary Hall.

A contest for attendance was held, in order to create an interest in this organization. The community was divided into two sections, those North of the highway passing through Arcadia, and those South of it. The losing side will banquet the winning at the close of the term.

A fund committee was appointed by the President, to aid in financing the organization this year, instead of charging the customary fees for membership. A Hallow'een Fete, and a community program were given under the auspices of this committee. The proceeds, which they obtained, will be used to purchase equipment for the school.

Varied programs consisting of readings, music, lectures, and contests were rendered by members of the faculty, student-body, and the community.

Already, the association has unanimously voted to sponsor a Boy Scout Troop for the welfare of the boys of our community. It is hoped that this organization will become more active in the future, in order that its purpose and worth to the community can more fully be realized.

Farmers' Institute

The Arcadia Farmers' Institute was held in the school auditorium on January 31 and February 1. The state speakers were Mr. S. B. Stowe from Marion, Ohio and Mrs. R. M. Brown from Goshen, Indiana. The average attendance at the institute was 250 people. An epidemic of scarlet fever and small pox was responsible for the small attendance.

The music for the program was furnished by the school pupils and the Fisher Family. The Junior Class Play was not given on the second evening of the institute as had been the custom in other years, because of the epidemics in the community.

Community Fair

The fourth annual Community Fair was held in the school building on Thursday and Friday, October 18 and 19 with 202 exhibitors showing 1340 exhibits. This was the largest number of exhibits ever shown at any of our community fairs. The receipts from the fair were $409.71. The expenses were $292.69. $30.00 of the balance was given to the Home Economics class, $30.00 was given to the F. F. A. organization, $30.00 to the teachers fund and the balance $27.02 was held over in the community fair fund.

The program on Thursday evening consisted of Home Talent Plays put on by the people of the community and the Big Lick Grange. On Friday night the National Quartet from Sandusky gave the program. The events on Friday afternoon were a rooster chase, Penny scramble, 75-yard dash, balloon race and football game with Mt. Blanchard.

Literary Activity

For several years the literary activity of the high school has been confined to two literary societies, the Emersonian and the Websterian. But this year our high school, having caught the trend of modern educational methods, tried to get as many students as possible engaged in literary work. Since there were two vocational clubs which necessarily claimed for membership the vocational students, three new clubs were organized—The Up to Date Literary Club, The Who's Who Club, and the Travel Club.

In the Up to Date Club an attempt has been made to study modern authors and their publications. These compositions which in the future find their places on library shelves were compared to similar standard productions. In seeking these articles toward worth while magazines and papers. Here the true aim of the club was found in creating interest in modern writers in the better classes of magazines and papers.

A study of the truly great men of the past and of the present has occupied the thoughts of the members of the Who's Who Club. After hearing of the life of a great man or woman the group in an informal discussion points out why the person is counted as great and just what he or she has contributed for the benefit of man or the upbuilding of civilization. In this way the students by analyzing the qualities of those people obtain a broader outlook on the future.

An interest of travel is the heritage that has come to each American from the pioneer who pushed westward in spite of the difficulties and hardships of frontier life. Although students of high school age have not had the privilege to do much traveling they at least are interested in it. So the Travel Club has made a study of the travels and experiences of those persons who have had the opportunity to journey to the numerous places of interest throughout the world. In this way they have learned much concerning the customs and political life of other nations as well as of the geographical features.

The purpose of the Home Economics Club is twofold; to establish bonds of friendship among girls interested in Home Economics and to teach these girls how to properly live in order that they may be worthy home makers. Reports have been given on etiquette so that each girl may have the opportunity of knowing how to rise to meet the occasion. Occupations for girls were discussed also so that they might know what paths would be open for them before they become home makers.

Knowing that farmers often appear in public before a group the Agriculture Club's purpose has been to create a feeling of self-confidence and a desire of self expression in the minds of its members. Debates, reports, journals and readings all relating to agriculture have contributed to the programs of this club. The sponsor acts as a critic and reports on the defects and qualities of each member.

The Squad

HALF—BACKS

Richard Anderson and Robert Painter were our half-backs. Dick, captain, is a four year letter man and did all the passing and kicking. Bob was noted for speed.

FULL—BACK

Robert Russell made good at full-back after being changed from guard to fill Harold Havens place. He always made large gains by hitting the line.

QUARTER—BACK

Carey Rhoten was a good signal caller and was a dangerous man when he got in the open field.

ENDS

Lanker and Myers were always down ready to take out their man on a punt, as well as to catch passes. An end run netted the opposition little gain.

TACKLES

Long and Nesbitt equally filled the position of tackles well. They could always be counted on to take out their men in every game.

GUARDS

Barnes and Woodward, offered very little encouragement to the opposition, when plays were attempted through their positions. Many long runs were made possible for the back-field by their splendid interference and blocking.

CENTERS

Robert Reid and Maurice Hoffman filled the position of center alternately. They often broke through and spilled the back-field for great losses.

SUBS

Walter Noel, Elmer Jameson, Charles Seevers, Murrell Myers, Albert Russell, Richard Wisley, Robert Treece, Eugene Reid, Marion Crawford, Richard Huffmaster, and Adam Moore were out for football so the prospects for good teams in future years are great.

12 players received letters.

Lavoin Hainen, football manager, filled his position well. After having played football, until injuries prevented, he knew what the team needed. The boys had great confidence in his ability to give first aid, also in his encouragement to the players between halves.

CAREY RHOTEN

"Mike," our captain and guard did good work and helped win our games. His fleetness of foot, keen sight, and deceptive passing troubled opposing teams. Carey is a Senior.

RAYMOND NESBITT

"Nessy," a guard carefully watched the plays of the opponents and kept their scores from piling up. Occasionally he would slip down and make a long shot for our credit. Raymond is a Senior so he will not bother opposing forwards any longer.

RICHARD ANDERSON

"Dick" played a good game as center. He is a four year letter man. He was sure on short shots and his splendid team work is noteworthy. Dick is a Senior and leaves a place hard to fill.

ROBERT PAINTER

"Bob," who was changed from his position of guard last year, to forward, helped pile up the score by his accurate shooting. Bob was noted for his ability to pivot and locate the basket from almost any spot on the floor. Bob is a Senior.

IRVIN FOX

"Tom," played forward and helped win our games by his splendid team-work as well as his shooting ability. Fouls were death in his hands. He is a Sophomore and has two more years to fight for Arcadia.

ROBERT PARISH

"Bob," a new man this year, was a good relief man. He played in several games and contributed to the score by his long shots. Bob is a Junior and has another year to bother opponents.

JOHN GROTH

"John," played a good game at forward. He is noted for his shooting ability. Since he is only a Junior he too will help Arcadia next year.

MAURICE HOFFMAN

"Moorey," filled the position of guard. He always played hard when he got into the game but he is a Senior and leaves this year.

FOREST LANKER

"Lanker," made good at forward. He had a fighting spirit and scored easily. Next year no doubt he can be counted on to score for Arcadia, as he is only a Junior.

WALTER MYERS

"Myers," became a fast player and mastered dribbling well. He is a Junior and with more practice, will take the place of some who leave us.

The first five players mentioned will receive letters.

MARGARET LEONARD—Guard

"Peg," our captain, capably guided the team this year. She was a consistent player, and always played her best, in hopes that the victory would be ours. She will be with us next year to help launch the team of '31.

DOROTHY CONINE—Guard

"Dot" always played a "hit-em-hard" game, and was one of our best guards. She watched the plays of her opponents with a keeness that was commendable, and never failed to uphold her side of the defensive. She not only hindered the plays of her forward, but broke up the plays of her opponent-forwards. She was excellent in pivioting and bouncing the ball, and leaves a vacancy on the team which will be hard to fill.

BESSIE BEAMER—Guard

"Bess" was a consistent-hard worker, and displayed ability in breaking up the plays of her opponents. She hung on to her opponent well, and hindered her from scoring. It was her pleasing and cheerful manner which aided the team to struggle for victory. A. H. S. regrets that this faithful worker is a Senior.

WILMA FOX—Forward

"Fuzzy," our Senior forward, was always in the midst of the fight. She showed a marked ability in long shots. Her disposition, and good will kept her working hard at all times. She deserves honorable mention for her sportsmanship, and cooperation with the team.

RUTH RHOTEN—Forward

"Rhoten" played a good game at center position. Her length, and speed made her a good match for her opponents. She revealed a marked ability in making long shots, which will retain for her a forward position on the team of '31. She was very optimistic, taking our many defeats with a pleasant smile.

EVELYN NIEBEL—Forward

"Niebels," our forward, was always determined that we should win. Pep, punch, and fleetness of foot was personified in this diminutive Sophmore player. Her smallness accounted for her many falls and bounces during the season, but despite all this, fortune favored her, and she registered many of our points. She will be back with us next year, and undoubtedly will make one of the best forwards in the future.

LUCILLE NESBITT—GUARD

"Tete" a sub, played in many of our games this season, and aided the team in their struggles. She was always determined that we should win, and seldom did her forward get by her to register goals. She will be with us next year filling the position of one of the regulars.

The subs who deserve honorable mention for their presistent efforts and cooperation are Pauline Davis, Amy Barnes, Ruby Woodward, and Isabelle Trout. Their experiences of this year will be of great value to them, when they become the regulars of next year.

Intra-Mural Basketball

The student body took a very active part in the inter-class tournament which was sponsored between the classes in the high-school, and the eighth grade girls.

The first game of the tournament was played between the Junior and Senior boys. Over-confidence on the part of the Seniors enabled the Juniors to be victorious by a score of 12-19.

The next game was played between the Senior girls and eighth grade girls. It was a hard fought game but the Seniors won by a score of 15—14. Many tears and accusations burst forth from the over-confident losers but the Seniors still retained their title.

The Freshmen boys played the Sophomore boys. This was an interesting game, and at the end of the third quarter, it was difficult to determine which might be the victor. The Freshies didn't get into the game until the second half, and lost by a score of 13-17.

A very close and exciting game was played between the Sophomore and Freshmen girls. The Freshmen were in the lead during the first half, but the game ended 4-5 in favor of the Sophomores.

The final boys' game was next played, between the Juniors and Sophomores. The speedy Sophomores were too much for the Juniors, and won by a score of 24—14. Louis Blake, George Long, Harold Bame, Robert Reid, Richard Gillespie, Thurman Riter and Irvin Fox were members of the victorious team.

The winners of the (8th. grade vs. Senior girls game), played the Junior girls in the semi-finals. Although the Seniors were badly crippled, they won over the Juniors by a score of 10—6.

The Seniors played the final game with the Sophomore girls. The Seniors were triumphant, winning by a score of 17 to 11. The players on the Senior team were Dorothy Conine, Eleanor Semler, Wilma Fox, Bessie Beamer, Ethel Fisher, Kathryn Ebersole and Helen Ritter.

Sophomore boys rah! rah!—Senior girls rah! rah!

Mr. Faller, the boys' foot-ball coach, was a new teacher, but with the experience and knowledge of foot-ball, that he obtained by playing at Ohio State, he proved a successful coach. Mr. Faller worked patiently with the boys who prospered under his management.

Mr. Kieffer, the basket-ball coach, took great interest in his work, and helped the team as much as he could. He has coached the boys teams for six years, and has proven himself a dependable coach.

Miss Shuck, our girls' coach, sacrificed much time and energy to aid the girls in becoming as proficient as they did. Much credit should be given to her for her spirit, faithfulness and co-operation with the team.

Ithel Woodward and Walter Noel, basket-ball managers, were always on the job. They helped the teams by their untiring services at every game.

Much credit is due to our student manager, Ethel Fisher, who was always ready to rouse the team spirit at all times. She rendered her services willingly by carrying the role of "Doc. Fisher." At the quarters the girls appreciated the oranges and gum that she always showered upon them. She was always ready to share in the victories as well as the many defeats.

15—Too much hilarity in Chem. Lab.—Faller separates old pals.
17—Community fair—record crowd.
18—Football team receives their annual defeat on second day of fair.
22—Mr. Keiffer doesn't get drift of fun in a thumb tack.
23—First snow—Is there enough for a sleigh ride?
24—Oh m'gosh! 25-0 in Rawson's favor. Alibi—slippery field.

NOVEMBER

4—H. S. Geog. class visits Wyandot Caverns.
5—Keiffer asks for a little order— a little is what he got.
11—Armistice day—but not for us.
12—Fire!! Fire!! Fire!! False alarm.
15—Hunting season begins and football season ends.
26—Grade cards—groans—sighs—grumbles.

DECEMBER

4—Magic!! Pearl wonders if magicians can make her fat—so do we.
5—Seniors get pictures taken—see Clara Bow in the "Saturday Night Kid."
10—Seniors promenade—goo-goo-goo—. State test with plenty of headaches.
11—Proofs of pictures arrive—proves that you can't get something for nothing.
13—The 13th. and Friday. High school not superstitious.
16—Miss Britton returns, wearing a beauty patch.
18—"Miss Cherry Blossom" appears in unfavorable weather.
19—Deluge of telegrams on faculty announce high school party.
20—Basketball game at Amsden—players get cold feet.
23—High school party—with candy canes as favors.
24—Santa Claus visits school—jingle bells! jingle bells!
25—Merry Christmas!!! Vacation begins.

JANUARY

1—Happy New Year!! Vacation ends.
2—"Vacation blues"—an idea for a song.
6—Exams announced for everyone—Seniors blue.
8—Just the day before exams.
9—The teachers cry "They shall not pass."
10—Again it is exams. Still the teachers storm.
13—Second semester begins. It won't be long now.
14—Dampness in the basement causes us to get a day's vacation.
15—Mr. Keiffer's becoming domesticated—mistakes love note for grocery list. (Dear honey.)
16—Boys! Discard those heelplates!!!!
17—Carey says his motto is "Play the game hard from the time the whistle starts 'till it blows."
28—Oh! my (vaccination)!
31—Farmer's Institute—Mr. Faller nods his approval ????

FEBRUARY

2—Did you see your shadow?
3—Oh! my vaccination!! O-O-Oh-h!!!
4—No! Helen, Detroit isn't in Ohio—H. S. Geog.
6—We have a musical Chemistry class.
7—Ouch! My vaccination!! Oh, etc., etc!
12—A miracle or was it Santa Claus? Our girls beat Rawson! Rah! Rah!
13—Mr. Beane likes things old. Explain Please?
14—Flutter! Flutter! little hearts.
15—"The Absent Minded Bridegroom"—no return engagements scheduled.

MARCH

4—Something must be done about these heel plates—we wonder!
5—Fire! Fire! Fire! The garage.
6—No chapel! Too much chatter.
7—Juniors visit Hayes' home—Fremont.
10—Miss Crafts absent—Keiffer substitutes.
11—Mr. Keiffer cleans his office—sure sign of spring.
13—Save love letters—perhaps you will be famous some day.
14—"Don't be bashful"—Senior class party.
17—Are you green? Then it's your day.
20—We welcome a new member into the Senior class.
21—George Long kicks the bucket—not serious though.

APRIL

1—April Fool!! "Laff that off."
9—County program. There's music in the air.
18—"The Old Fashioned Mother." Sophomores dramatize.
19—Click!! Click!! go the heels plates.

MAY

2—"The Charm School"—Let's hope it charms them all.
9—Junior-Senior banquet—will it be modernistic?
15—Commencement— new alumni appear.
16—And the boys still wear heel plates.
19—We're off!!!
